What a way to start the year!

Welcome to Oliver!

This much-loved musical has been a joy to work on. We've gathered a large group of enthusiastic young performers and thoroughly explored this challenging and exciting work.

At face value, Oliver! appears to be that singalong favourite show- but on closer inspection it is surprising that some of its more difficult sections have a very contemporary resonance. It has been wonderful to expose the cast to a little cockney rhyming slang, and to hear them take on the wonderful score - we will be singing "Consider Yourself" and "Oom Pah Pah" for weeks to come.

We'd like to thank the outstanding cast, orchestra and crew for their hard work, commitment and sense of fun throughout the process.

We'd also like to thank the team of creatives for their professionalism and tireless contribution. Thousands of stitches in the costume department, hundreds of steps in the choreography department and countless hours in the technical department have all contributed to making this production such a joy.

Thank you for joining us, and a special thank you if you have been a taxi, diary keeper and all-round supporter of these young people as they have sung, danced and played their way through the last few months.

From the Director ~ Danny Parker and
Musical Director ~ Su-Lyn Chong
